LIVESTOCK REGISTRATION LAW

House Bill No. 334

AN ACT providing a lien for the services of stallions and jacks registered according to the provisions of this act.

Be It Enacted By the People of the State of Oklahoma:

License—Board.

Section 1. Every person, persons, firm, corporation, company or association that shall stand, travel, advertise or offer for public service in any manner any stallion or jack in the State of Oklahoma, before being entitled to the benefit of the lien hereinafter provided for the services of such animals, shall secure a license certificate for such stallion or jack, from the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board, as hereinafter provided. Said board shall consist of the dean of the division of agriculture, head of the animal husbandry department, and the head of the veterinary department of the Oklahoma State Agricultural College.

Requirements—Fees.

Section 2. To obtain a license certificate as herein provided, the owner of such stallion or jack shall comply with the following requirements:

First. The owner of a purebred stallion or jack shall forward to the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board of Inspection, the registry certificate or a certified copy of the registry certificate of such stallion or jack, also other necessary papers or documents, relating to the breeding and ownership of such stallion or jack.

Second. Owners of crossbred or grade stallions or jacks shall forward to the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board affidavit showing the breeding of such stallion or jack.

Third. Owners of scrub stallions or jacks shall forward to the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board a statement of the age, color and size of such stallion or jack.

Fourth. The fee of such stallion or jack license shall be two ($2.00) dollars and said fee shall accompany each application for license.

Revocation of License.

Section 3. The Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board shall have power to revoke, cancel or recall any license when said board shall find that such license does not truly and correctly represent the horse or jack for which said license was originally issued, and when a license is revoked by the said board, it shall be the duty of the sheriff or a constable of a county where such license is located to take possession of said license and deliver the same to the said Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board when called upon by said Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board to take possession of the said license.

Kinds of License.

Section 4. The Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board shall issue four kinds of licenses, as follows: Purebred, for stallions or jacks correctly recorded in stud books, recognized by the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board; crossbred, for stallions or jacks whose sire and dam are of different breeds but each are correctly recorded in a stud book maintained for that particular breed, providing said stud books are recognized by the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board; grade, for stallions whose sire or dam is recorded in a stud book that is recognized by the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board; scrub, for stallion or jack whose sire and dam are neither recorded in a stud book recognized by the State Livestock Registry Board.

Investigations—Registry Books and Associations.

Section 5. It shall be the duty of the State Livestock Registry Board to examine and pass upon the merits of each registry certificate and statement of breeding submitted as herein provided, and it shall use as its standard the stud books and signatures of the duly authorized officers of the various horse pedigree registry associations, societies or companies certified by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., Bureau of Animal Industry, in order No. 136, dated June 20, 1906, and any other stud or jack books which may be established in the future when an association or company establishing such stud or jack books shall prove to the satisfaction of the State Livestock Registry Board that they are doing an honest, reputable and creditable business, and that such stud or jack books are necessary for the protection and encouragement of that particular breed.

Term—Renewal License.

Section 6. Each license issued by the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board shall expire December 31, of the year of which it is issued but such license may be renewed each year, provided, the owner of said stallion or jack makes application for renewal before March 1, following the date of expiration, and forward with such application for renewal a fee of one ($1.00) dollar for each renewal and submit satisfactory evidence establishing the identity of stallions or jacks for which renewal of license is requested. Each renewal shall expire on December 31 of the year for which it is renewed. Failure to have license renewed, as herein provided, before March 1 following the date of expiration, shall forfeit the right of renewal, and when said right has been forfeited, the owner of said stallion or jack shall procure a new license as provided in Section 2.

Description and Contents of License.

Section 7. The license certificate for a stallion or jack correctly recorded in a stud or jack book recognized by the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board shall contain the following information: License number, registration number, breed, color, age, pedigree, name and address of owner, date of issue, the seal of the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board, and the signature of the secretary of the Oklahoma Livestock Registry Board. The license for a crossbred, grade or scrub stallion shall contain the following information: License number, statement of breeding, color, age, name and address of owner, date of issue, seal of the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board, and the signature of the secretary of the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board.

Advertising Bills—License Number.

Section 8. Every bill, poster or other advertisement of every kind or nature, issued by the owner, keeper or person in charge of any stallion or jack enrolled and licensed under this act, and used to advertise such stallion or jack by said owner, keeper, or person in charge, shall have as a heading for such advertisement the class of license issued for said stallion or jack and the number of his license: Thus "Purebred license number —", "Crossbred license number —", "Grade license number —", or "Scrub license number —", as the case may be. In all advertisements this heading shall be set in the largest and boldest type used in the advertisement.

Posting License Certificate.

Section 9. The owner, keeper, or person in charge of any stallion or jack standing for public service in this State shall post and keep affixed during the entire breeding season, the license certificate of each stallion or jack issued under the provisions of this act, in a conspicuous place in each stable or building where such stallion or jack stands for public service.

Transfer of License.

Section 10. Upon transfer of ownership of any stallion or jack licensed under the provisions of this act, the new owner shall forward to the office of the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board, the license issued in the name of the former owner together with a fee of fifty cents and satisfactory evidence that the stallion or jack transferred is the one for which the license was originally issued. It shall be the duty of the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board to record such transfer and issue a license in the name of the new owner.

List of Owners—County Clerk to Furnish.

Section 11. It shall be the duty of the county clerk of each county in the State of Oklahoma to file with the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board before July 1 of each year, a complete list of all the stallion or jack owners in his county, together with the number of stallions or jacks owned by each as shown by the assessor's report of that particular county. He shall also file with the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board before July 1 of each year, the total number of horses in his particular county.

Certificate of Soundness—Optional.

Section 12. It shall be optional with the owners, keepers or persons in charge of stallions or jacks standing for public service whether or not said stallions or jacks shall be examined for soundness, but no stallions or jacks shall be advertised in any manner either directly or indirectly as a sound stallion or jack until a certificate of soundness has been issued for said stallion or jack by the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board, and then said stallion or jack may be advertised as sound only during the life of the certificate of soundness. This certificate of soundness shall become null and void and not in force on December 31 of the year during which it was issued. The fee for each certificate of soundness shall not exceed $2.00 for each stallion or jack.

Penalty.

Section 13. Any person, persons, firm, company, corporation or association that shall violate any of the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction shall be punished by a fine of not less than $20.00 and not more than $50.00 for each offense.

Funds—Disposition.

Section 14. The funds accruing from the above named fee shall be used by the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board to defray the expense of enrollment of pedigrees and the issuing of licenses, to publish reports or bulletins containing lists of stallions or jacks, licenses and transfers, and all money accruing above the amount necessary for said purpose shall be turned into the general revenue fund of the State. It shall be the duty of the Oklahoma Livestock Registry Board to make annual reports including financial statements, to the Governor of the State, and all financial records of said Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board shall be open to inspection.

Liens for Services.

Section 15. The owner of any stallion or jack, upon complying with the provisions of this act, shall have a lien upon any female animal, subject to prior liens, to which such animal is let and upon the offspring of such animal, the result of such services for the sum contracted therefor. Such lien shall attach at the time of service of such male and shall be superior to any mortgage lien placed upon the female animal or offspring after the time of service, and such lien shall not be lost by reason of any sale, exchange, removal from the county, or other disposition of such female animal or offspring, but upon such sale, exchange, removal or disposition without consent of the person holding the lien, the same may be immediately enforced.

Printed Bills—Duties.

Section 16. The owner of any stallion or jack who avails himself of the provisions of this act, shall during the breeding season of such animal, keep posted in a public and conspicuous place on the premises where the services of such animal are to be performed, a plainly written or printed handbill, showing the charges for the services to be rendered and the terms of payment thereof, and any person breeding a female animal shall be held to have consented to the price and terms of services as stated therein.

Liens—Procedure to Collect.

Section 17. At any time within twenty months after his right of action accrues the owner of such sire may file with any justice of the peace in the county, a written statement, duly verified, setting forth the amount of his claim, his cause of action, and a description of the animal or animals upon which he has a lien, and the justice shall thereupon issue summons as in other cases, and embody therein a description of the animal or animals upon which said lien is claimed, and an order to the constable to take the animal or animals and hold it or them subject to the order of the court.

Bond Pending Trial.

Section 18. The owner may give bond for the retention of such animal or animals as in action for the recovery of personal property.

Section 19. If, upon trial, judgment be rendered for the plaintiff, the court shall order a sale of the animal or animals, as in execution sales, to pay the judgment and costs, and, if bond be given for the retention of the animal or animals, the court shall render judgment on the bond against the sureties thereon for the amount of the plaintiff's debt and costs.

Sale of Animals Served—Notice.

Section 20. Any person who shall sell or otherwise dispose of any animal subject to the lien provided for in this act, without notifying the person to whom said sale or other disposition is made, of the existence of the lien shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction for such offense shall be punished by a fine of not less than $25.00 nor more than $100.00 or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Approved February 25, 1915.

REGISTRY RULES AND REGULATIONS

The law as passed is very liberal in its provisions, leaving the matter of registration and license entirely to the option of the owners, but making provision for the legal and easy collection of service fees for those availing themselves of the privilege of registration and license.

It also provides that no stallion or jack may be advertised, either directly or indirectly, as sound until such animal has been examined by a representative of the Registry Board and a certificate of soundness issued. It is not necessary, however, to have a certificate of soundness in order to secure a license or to stand for public service.

No stallion or jack will be given a certificate of soundness if any of the following physical defects or diseases are present:

Moon blindness (periodic ophthalmia), Cataract, Roaring or Whistling, Heaves or Broken Wind, St, Vitus Dance, String Halt, Bone Spavin, Ring Bone, Side Bone, Navicular Disease, Thoroughpin, Box Spavin, Curb with Curby Formation of Hocks, Glanders, Farcy, Urethral Gleet, Mange, and retention of one or both testicles (cryptorchid).

Certificates of soundness that may have been issued will be revoked whenever any of the above diseases or defects are detected at later examinations.

The registration and license fee is $2.00 for each animal registered. A renewal of the license, if applied for before March 1 of the following year, may be secured for $1.00.

Stallion owners wishing to have a certificate of soundness for their horses, should make application for the same to the Board, and whenever possible such examination will be made, the maximum fee for which will not exceed $2.00 for any one horse.

Blank forms of application for stallion and jack license must be filed giving necessary information before license can be issued. These blanks can be secured from the Livestock Registry Board, Stillwater, or from the county clerk of each county upon request.

A purebred license can be issued only when the stallion or jack has been recorded in the stud book of one of the associations listed below as being recognized by the Registry Board. The application for a purebred license must be accompanied in every case by either the certificate of registration, commonly called the pedigrees, or a certified copy of the same, before a license can be issued.

A grade license can be issued to a stallion that is not purely bred and registered only when the name and pedigree number of the sire or the dam is given on the application blank. The sire's pedigree must be recorded in a recognized association stud book.

Two forms of license only are issued for jacks; one for purebred or registered, and the other for scrub or non-registered jacks.

Under the provisions of the law certain registry companies that make a practice of issuing certificates of registry or pedigrees for grade horses shall not be recognized by the Board in the issuance of purebred licenses or certificates.

PROGRESS OF REGISTRATION WORK

The second annual report of the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board is herewith submitted to the public. It includes a financial statement for the year 1917, a list of all licenses issued, a separate list showing the purebred stallions grouped by breeds, and other interesting tables and information concerning the work. We have also succeeded in getting some of the leading horse and mule men of the State to write short articles upon upon important phases of the business.

During 1917 there were 2,649 licenses issued to stallions and jacks, as compared with 2,352 in 1916. This increase of nearly three hundred does not necessarily show an actual increase in the number of such animals in the State. The license law is not compulsory in Oklahoma, but gives a lien on mares and offspring to those who comply with the law. Increase in the number of licenses issued may therefore simply show that a larger percent of owners are taking out licenses.

A number of changes have taken place in the makeup of the Registry Board. Dr. Henry G. Knight succeeds W. L. Carlyle, and J. S. Malone takes the place of W. L. Fowler. Dr. L. L. Lewis still retains his position on the Board. During 1917, up to August 31, O. J. Moyer was secretary. Commencing in January, 1918, a new secretary has been secured in the person of W. L. Blizzard.

GAIN IN PUREBREDS

It is interesting to note that while there is an increase of 12.6% in the total number of licenses issued during 1917, as compared with 1916, there is a gain of 25.4% in the number of purebred licenses, both stallion and jack. Most of this increase in purebreds was among the jacks, there having been a gain of 207, while the purebred stallions only gained 31.

The following table shows fewer Standardbreds, Morgans and German Coach, but decidedly more Percherons and French Draft. There is a small increase in Belgians and Hackneys.

PUREBRED STALLIONS OF EACH BREED

Breed	1917	1916
Percheron	435	405
Standardbred	67	82
French Draft	61	45
American Saddle	24	24
Belgian	21	18
German Coach	19	21
Thoroughbred	7	7
Shire	6	6
French Coach	4	4
Hackney	3	2
Morgan	1	2
Total	648	616

IMPORTANCE OF TRANSFERS

The Registry Board has found it necessary to make a strict ruling that purebred licenses cannot be issued on registry certificates unless such certificates are made out to the present owners of the animal, or else are accompanied by satisfactory evidence that the animal has been transferred to the present owner on the books of the association in which it is registered.

If a stallion has a purebred license, owners of registered mares will naturally breed their mares to him, expecting no trouble in getting the offspring registered. If, however, it happens that the owner of this stallion has bought him from another person after he was registered and has failed to see that the seller had him transferred by the secretary of that particular breed association, there will be considerable difficulty in registering the colts. It is to avoid such trouble, and to protect owners of registered mares or jennets, as the case may be, that the Registry Board makes this rule.

What is true of stallions and jacks is true of all classes of livestock. The buyer of registered stock should always insist upon the seller having such stock duly transferred to the new owner by the secretary of the association. Some associations require a small transfer fee, while others do not.

INSPECTION FOR SOUNDNESS

The stallion law of Oklahoma does not require that animals be inspected for soundness before giving them licenses. A license shows the breeding of an animal, but says nothing whatever as to soundness. If a man wants his stallion or jack inspected, however, the Registry Board will send a qualified man to do it, and if the animal is sound a certificate of soundness is given the owner. Such a certificate may then be used in advertising the horse, but until then the law does not allow him to advertise his horse as being sound.

Greater use should be made of this provision for inspection than has been the custom in the past. The law was made optional in the beginning in order that it might not work too great a hardship on owners of unsound animals, and yet give the owners of sound stock a chance to use the name of the State in advertising. Strict stallion laws of neighboring States are driving a great deal of unsound stock into Oklahoma.

FAKE PEDIGREES

During the past year sixty-five applications for licenses have been received for stallions and jacks with fake pedigrees. These animals were all registered, and their owners expected purebred licenses, but the fact that they were not recorded in recognized associations prevented their getting such licenses. In some cases it was possible to give a grade license, while in still others a scrub license was the best that could be given.

Many of the Middle West States had stallion laws before Oklahoma did, and it is very natural that many stallions with fake pedigrees should have found their way from those States into Oklahoma. Owners of such animals have in some cases expressed dissatisfaction upon being refused purebred licenses. The only way to avoid disappointment in the future is to buy no stallion or jack without knowing him to be registered in a recognized association, a list of such associations being given elsewhere in this report. The Registry Board is qualified and willing to inspect any registration papers that are sent to it.

The non-recognized associations are not recognized by most stallion boards. If the Oklahoma Livestock Registry Board recognized any of these so-called fake associations it would throw the State open, and stallions and jacks that could get a license would be sent here after they had been refused in some other State. The Oklahoma Livestock Registry Law in this way affords protection to stallion and jack owners and prospective purchasers.

Many of these fake associations are refused licenses for the reason that their requirements for registration are too lenient.

The man who goes out to buy a jack or stallion should take the following precautions:

1. See that the color, markings and description given on the pedigree corresponds with the actual color and markings of the horse.

2. That age given on the registry certificate should check with age as shown by teeth. These inspections should be made carefully as alterations, changes and erasures are often found.

3. If in doubt as to whether or not the stallion or jack is recorded in a reliable registry association, seek the services of the Oklahoma State Livestock Registry Board before completing your purchase.

GREAT DIFFERENCE IN COUNTIES

Certain counties have so many more licensed animals than others that it is hard to account for the great difference. Caddo county leads with 87 licenses, and Lincoln county is next, having 81. On the other hand, we find only one in Latimer county and two in Love county. While it is true that the central and northwest portions of the State pay more attention to the raising of horses and mules than the southeast portion, yet much of the difference is no doubt due to the fact that in certain localities a larger percent of the stallions and jacks hold licenses than in other localities.

It will be noticed that in the following table the number of purebred stallions does not correspond with the number given in the table of breeds. This is because the table of counties gives the total number of licenses issued, some of which have been transferred during the year, making it necessary to issue two licenses for the same animal. The table of breeds shows the actual number of purebred stallions which have been licensed.

BREEDING HORSES FOR PROFIT

BY W. L. BLIZZARD

In general throughout the horse markets, and also over the farming districts, one will find many horses that are lacking in the good points that are so characteristic of a long-lived, long-enduring workhorse. Many of the horses have poor quality, lacking in depth of body and depth of flank and cleanness of bone. But are people not coming to the conclusion that such horses do not pay for their feed, and are they not trying to dispose of the same, hence the market is overstocked with horses of no particular individual merit. The European countries have given the American farmers and breeders an opportunity to dispose of a lot of the worthless light truck horses, and because they cannot get all of what they want, they are taking what they can get at the cheapest price. There will never be a ready market for the scrub, and the horsemen in general are realizing that fact and are not going to breed that class of livestock.

The European war is a stimulating agent for the draft horse industry of the United States. It is Oklahoma's and America's opportunity to breed good draft horses. Older countries have taught us to breed only good stock, and now is our chance and opportunity to put into practice that which we have learned by observation. The Oklahoma horse breeder can improve the average crop of colts by attention to mating animals that in every way "nick". The next step should be a more rigid selection of stallions to mate with the purebred mares and grades throughout the country. The large breeders can more easily cope with this problem. It is hard for the small breeder to find suitable sires. The small breeder can best solve this problem by "community breeding".

It is also necessary to have a good mare if you expect to raise good draft horses. If you do not own the right kind, sell the wrong kind and buy the good kind. Next, breed them to the right kind of a sire. The service fee may be $5.00 to $10.00 more, but there will be more than $5.00 to $10.00 difference in the colt sired by the best stallion when they are of selling age.

Sell your horses when you find a buyer at a fair price. This is the rule of successful breeders. Don't get over-stocked so that you cannot provide proper shelter, feed and care. If you have several good brood mares, stock will accumulate if you do not sell at the proper time. It is much more profitable to take good care of a few than to give poor care to a large number.

A mistake that is often made in breeding horses is for the farmer to breed the kind that suit his fancy and does not suit the market demands. He argues that for his own use he prefers a horse that will weigh about 1,200 pounds, and for this reason he will have horses of about this weight. This may be all right if he is growing them for his own use. If he regards a heavy draft horse as too large for his purpose, it may be all right for him to grow the kind that suits him; but if he is growing horses with a view to selling them when they reach a salable age, surely it is the best plan to grow the kind that will bring the highest dollar. If the farmer will recognize and avoid these mistakes and grow horses such as the market wants and will pay for, and avoid haphazard breeding without purpose, there is every reason why horse-breeding can be made a profitable branch of farming.

Most farms have good pastures on which the growing horses can secure their exercise, which is essential to the making of good horses, and the farmer by keeping the bulk of his farm-power in the form of mares suitable for breeding, can make them pay their way outside of the matter of raising colts for sale.

To grow the right kind of horses for which the farm is best adapted, and which will at the same time bring a good price, it is necessary that the mares kept on the farm shall have good scale, weighing from 1,500 pounds and upward, and that they shall be bred to a really good sire that will produce colts which, when properly fed and cared for, will mature into horses considerably heavier than their dams.

One thing must be borne in mind, and that is we are living in a progressive age, and a progressive county, where the man who can produce the best article will realize the best market price, and the man who cannot compete with him will be forced to drop out.

The people generally want better horses than they have heretofore been satisfied with, and the man who can supply this demand will reap the reward. "Try to make the horse you raise as good as any of his kind."

Stay by one breed. The man who begins with one breed of horses and then suddenly introduces another breed as a cross, loses everything he has gained in the first cross, and by his own action deliberately kicks down and to pieces all he built before. To breed drafters of weight and quality you must mate "big stallions with big mares" and "feed and grow them". There is no other way it can be done, and you cannot breed good sellers from great, rough, unsound horses; mares or stallions.

Quality sells for just as much in a drafter as it does in a Hackney. The drafter must be sound and have size, shape, substance, quality and action. The day of specialism is upon us in the horse business. Never did buyers feel like discriminating more keenly than they do now. Therefore the man who raises horses in the next few years must use good judgment or he will come out a loser.

RAISING DRAFT HORSES IN OKLAHOMA

BY L. A. HAMPTON & SON

Although the draft horse business in Oklahoma is in its infancy, it is fast growing to maturity. Oklahoma, as all other new States, in its wild and unsettled days, was filled with cattlemen, cowboys, and consequently with ponies, but along with civilization came the heavier and better class of horses. Within the past twenty-five years Oklahoma has grown from the pony stage to a State with a large number of good draft horses. In almost every community you can find many good grade drafters and even a large number of breeders of purebred draft horses.

To my mind the greatest thing for the draft horse in Oklahoma is its stallion law and the Livestock Registry Board. In the early days of the State, horses were sold and stood, and represented to be whatever the owners wished to call them; so the consequence was that the country was filled with all kinds of horses. Under the present law the stallion owner is compelled to give the correct blood of his horse, thus giving his customer an exact idea of what to expect in their colts. It also gives the stallion man protection in the way of collecting his fees.

There is no reason why we should not raise as good horses in Oklahoma as in any other State, for we can grow almost any kind of feed here that can be grown in any other State, and alfalfa makes two more crops each year than in the Northern States. As there is nothing better for young drafters than alfalfa, we have the advantage of the much-famed Northern States for raising good drafters.

There is a reason for the change from the pony to the heavy drafter, and that is this: The properly built draft horse, weighing from 1,400 pounds upward, will live and stay fat on the same or very little more feed than the old saddle pony, and when you go to sell him he will bring from two to three times as much. When you keep him on the farm he can pull nearly twice the load, and as the range days of Oklahoma are about over, we need the horse that can pull, and not the pony that can out-run and throw a long-horn steer.

I have been speaking of the good grade horse, but I will go farther and say that the same feed which keeps the 1,400-pound grade will keep the 1,800-pound registered drafter, and when you sell him he will bring from twice to three times as much as his grade brother; so why raise scrubs or even grades?

How many of us would be willing to go back to the old farm tools used by our grandfathers? The same is true of the horse. While we have made great strides in the last decade, we will make still greater ones in the next.

I have been greatly impressed with our State Fair the last few years. Until the last few years our fair was the northern man's draft horse show. They came and brought what they pleased and took our ribbons, and also our money, but now it is different. We can make things so warm for them that they seldom come, and when they do we give them a horse show. When they do not come, we can and do have a creditable horseshow from our own State.

Watch the draft horse in Oklahoma in the future and see him take what belongs to him.

FITTING AND FEEDING HORSES FOR SHOW

BY A. D. OUTHIER

Fitting horses for show is a work of love and devotion. You cannot care for your charges and make the personal sacrifice for their comfort and education unless you love them. It is a work of care and love and devotion for which one must sacrifice his personal comfort and rest and sleep in order that his horses may confide in him and trust him, and respond to treatment with thrift and growth and glossy coats, so that when they are put through their different paces and poses of training they will comply with graceful and pleasing manners.

The assembling of a show herd is so closely interwoven with its care and feeding that I cannot resist going back a little further.

You appreciate the fact that it is courting defeat to bestow good care and feed upon an unworthy animal.

If you are breeding this show herd, be sure that the sire is big, sound, massive, of correct conformation, full of quality, power and energy. The dams of your breeding herd should be medium to large in size, with great feminine quality and almost speakable intelligence (the sour mare with drooping lip never produced a show horse), indicated by a large, expressive eye and quick, alert ear. The above qualities should be theirs by inheritance in order that they may be transmitted to the offspring. If the herd is to be assembled by selection, then the trained mind and accurate eye is necessary for best results.

We will assume now that we have our herd assembled, that we have one animal, and sometimes two or more, for every class available, and that they are all in good, clean, comfortable quarters, with abundance of good, fresh, pure water available, and with great abundance of sweet, sound feed suitable for your herd sire, your dams that are suckling foals and carrying the future foal; for the growing stallions and fillies and the suckling and weanling foals.

The time to commence on a show herd is the day after you return from the fairs.

But we assume that it is now springtime and you are just commencing your fitting. I would recommend that first the shoes, if any, should be removed from all horses, their feet trimmed closely, letting them go unshod for at least four weeks, and giving the feet a chance to spread. Then shoe with thin plates for about sixty days, and then you will be ready for show shoes to suit your different horses.

While your mares and young things are on wheat and early grass, feed little grain, if any, giving the blood a chance to cool and all humors removed, then you will be ready to commence gradually with grain and roughage and soon have them under full swing, with feed, grooming and training to suit each individual of the group as his wants may require. And here is where eternal vigilance and experience make for good. Study the likes and dislikes, and the kind of feed necessary for each animal and see that they get it. As to just what kinds of feed, opinions may differ, so they will not be discussed.

While this feeding and caring for feet is going on you must not neglect the training. Many a good horse meets defeat on account of his bad management and awkward position in the show ring.

Learn how to braid your horses; learn the colors that harmonize with the gray and black, and fix them up in a neat and attractive manner.

To summarize.—Have your horses well grown, fat and well groomed, beautifully decorated, and trained to the highest degree of perfection. If your horses are good ones, you stand an even break in getting your share of the ribbons.

CARE OF BROOD MARE AND FOAL

BY W. L. BLIZZARD

Every farmer should have the ambition to not only raise the best crops, but to raise the best stock of all kinds, and especially horses. If he has the best teams in the neighborhood they will attract a great deal of attention. The farmer's son will certainly be interested a great deal in a fine team of mares and the colts they raise. It would stimulate and encourage him to put forth his best efforts for their care and management. It is generally conceded that not more than half of the horses in this State are of the right type, conformation, quality and action; that is, not more than half of the horses are being raised to meet the demands of the market. The horse-raiser should keep in mind the market demands. There are many who have the idea that the average farmer cannot succeed in raising draft horses. This is a great mistake and without foundation. By the exercise of ordinary intelligence, draft horses are as easy to raise as any other stock on the farm. Much depends upon the breeding, care and feeding.

The Brood Mare

In raising horses it is certainly necessary to have the right breeding stock. In selecting the breeding stock we must keep in mind the old rule, like produces like. This principal applies to the brood mare as well as to the stallion. The bad qualities in the mare are as likely to appear in the colt as are the undesirable qualities possessed by the stallion. The influence of the mare in transmission of qualities to the colt is, as a rule, very much underestimated, and sometimes entirely ignored. The farmer who keeps worthless mares for breeding will not be able to compete with his neighbor who keeps only the best brood mares, even though they both use the same stallion. Once in a while he may get a very fine colt from an inferior mare, but this is very rarely the case, and no one can afford to breed horses for this exceptional chance of getting a good one.

Feed and Care of Brood Mare

Mares, if they are worth keeping, are entitled to the best of feed and care. A question of combining feeds that will give good results is one of the most importance. A combination of several feeds has the following advantages: (1) Furnishes succulence and, if properly combined, will add bulk; (2) gives variety and therefore increases palatability; (3) should furnish a balanced ration.

The question of combining feeds that are economical is no doubt the most important at this time. On most farms some or all of the following feeds are available for the brood mare: Corn, barley, oats, kafir, bran, oil meal, alfalfa hay, oat straw, sudan hay and paririe hay. A few suggestions in feeding these feeds to mares are as follows:

Corn and alfalfa hay are a good combination for the work horse, but have a tendency to heat during hot weather, and they do not furnish sufficient protein for the mare.

Oats and bran, with a little corn and kafir added, come nearer filling the bill and counteract the tendency to heat.

Corn, barley or kafir will give better results if combined with some oats, bran and a little oil meal.

Oats added to any of these feeds will increase their efficiency. Oats alone is a better feed than either corn, kafir or barley by themselves. Oats and bran combined, half and half, are especially well suited for a brood mare and growing horses or mules.

The following combination of feeds has been found entirely satisfactory for feeding the brood mare:

Ground or rolled oats	40 pounds
Bran	40 pounds
Chopped hay	20 pounds

The feeds, oats and bran, make an excellent combination. Bran is especially good as a conditioner. The chopped hay or chaff may consist of alfalfa hay, sudan hay or bright oat straw. These hays when reduced to a fine-cut form and mixed with a grain not only add bulk to the ration but they reduce the cost. The big mare needs a bulky ration in order to build capacity. After the cut hay has been thoroughly mixed with the grain the whole mixture should be wet with one-sixth water by weight at the time of feeding. A sprinkling of oil meal added to this ration will increase its efficiency. The quantity of feed that the mare will consume should be regulated by the way in which she cleans it up. The mares should be fed in such a way that they will always have a keen appetite. The feeder should study his mares carefully, and he can govern the amount that they need largely by the way the mares are doing. It is advisable to give the mare a bran mash every Saturday night. The bran mash will consist of $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 gallons of bran, to which have been added 2 to 4 ounces of epsom salts, dampened with warm water. This bran mash helps to keep the mare in good condition and loosens the hide. No mare can be expected to do well if she is hidebound. If the skin and flesh handles well it is the best indication that she is doing well.

Some advocate feeding hay once a day, others not over twice. If cut hay is added to the grain ration properly, once a day feeding of hay will be sufficient. There is no certain amount that can be provided, but they should receive about what they will clean up, as this is generally what they need. The hay should be bright and of good quality and free from dust. Do not feed one kind of hay one day and another the next. Changes are not advisable, but if necessary they should be gradual.

The most satisfactory way of providing salt is to keep it before them at all times. The pure salt is the best. A careful feeder can supply salt by adding it to the grain ration, but when it shows up as brine in wet feed, too much is being given.

The Foal

From three-fifths to three-fourths of the total growth of the horse is made by the foal in the first year of its existence. Of the remaining portion of the growth, about half is completed during the second year, while the rest is distributed over the third, fourth and fifth years. It is only during the first two years that the rate of growth can be perceptibly influenced by generous feeding and good care. After that but very little influence can be exerted in this direction except in respect to bringing about more thickening and promoting muscular development.

A foal learns to eat grain quickest with its mother. The foal should have some feed as quick as he will eat it, which will be in less than a month's time.

Feed the foal about all he will eat of the following mixture before and after weaning time:

Ground oats	37½ pounds
Bran	37½ pounds
Chopped oat straw, timothy hay or sudan hay	25 pounds

Add a sprinkling of oil meal and dampen with one-sixth water at feeding time, by weight, and mix thoroughly. When cut alfalfa hay is used, feed 20 pounds of alfalfa to a 100 pounds mixture, using more oats than bran, of the grain.

The cut hay in this mixture, in addition to improving the ration, reduces the cost and build capacity. In addition he will nibble a little at hay after he is a few months old, especially if he is not on grass. Supply some good, bright alfalfa hay that is free from dust. Other hays, such as sudan and prairie, are very desirable. Give the foal the best and brightest hay on the farm. If on grass, give a little dry hay.

It is a mighty good thing to feed grain on the grass. It will give you greater profits for your grain than will the elevator. Draft horses were never developed on grass alone.

Weaning time is an important crisis in a colt's career. You cannot make draft horses by allowing the colt to lose his colt fat after weaning time and to live in a cornstalk field or on wheat pasture the first winter. If you have given him the proper care up to five or six months, he will be eating almost the grain ration of a grown horse. Give him the best of hay along with the grain ration recommended for him previous to weaning. It is a ruinous policy to rough colts through winter on coarse, non-nutritious straw and hay.

At weaning time take the colts away from their mothers, running them all together. They seem to do better and will eat grain better if several are kept together. Do not take the colt away from its mother gradually, but a better way is to never allow him to nurse after he has been taken away—he should quit nursing at once.

In addition to proper feeding, it is likewise necessary to protect the young, growing colt against every possible chance of discomfort and unhealth that would tend to retard his growth. Shelter therefore must be sufficient, disease must be fought against, lice and mange must be prevented from sapping the constitution, and there should be plenty of fresh air and sunlight.

Catch and hold when three or four days old. Teach him that you are master. The general custom is to wait until the colt is two or three years old and then place him in between two or three horses on a gangplow, and he finally becomes of some service, but he is not broken. It is more apt to make him headstrong and unruly. This custom will not make a good work-horse that is a pleasure to work.

Halter-break while young. This lesson will not be forgotten. Remember, it is not necessary to drag a colt by the hand in order to persuade him to lead. Generally the harder a colt is pulled the harder he pulls back. The first time a colt is tied, see that the halter and rope will hold, for once he breaks loose he never forgets it and will try it again. Give the horse a liberal education in handling, breaking, etc., throughout his growing period and when the buyer comes along he is more apt to sell because: (1) He is apt to be worth more; (2) the owner has better opportunity to show him because he has been taught to carry himself in the right manner; (3) the purchaser has a better opportunity to estimate the real merit that he possesses.

Handle his feet and take good care of them. Teach the colt in the beginning to allow you to handle his feet. These lessons are not forgotten. If the colt has his feet held and trimmed for the first time when he is two or three years old, or older, it will be more than one man's job. The colt's feet should be trimmed every four to six weeks if they are properly taken care of. There are more unsound horses made through neglect and lack of care of the feet than through natural deficiency of conformation. Note the colt's feet occasionally, and if they are growing too long or out of shape, trim them, keep them level and not too high at the heels. High contracted heels are apt to cause sidebones to develop. The edges of the hoof wall should be rasped so as to prevent the foot from splitting. A pair of hoof pincers, a knife, rasp, plenty of energy and willingness to do the work, together with a little care in trimming, are the things it takes to keep the colt's feet in the proper shape.

You will find that the colt will grow larger, become more robust, and have decidedly better feet if you keep him out of doors most of the time, that is, when it is not too hot, or when the flies are not bad. He certainly needs plenty of fresh air as well as good feed and exercise.

Do not tease. Teasing or making a pet out of a colt has a tendency to cause them to be ill-natured or slow and lazy.

Do not allow the colt to follow in the field. A colt will do much better during hot weather and fly-time if he is kept in a box stall in the daytime and allowed to run with his mother at night in the pasture. The colt will also do much better if he is not allowed to follow his mother from one end of the field to the other every day or upon a dusty road. No colt will make two or three pounds gain a day under these conditions.

The handling, feeding and care of mule colts is right in line with the suggestions contained in this article.

SELLING PERCHERONS

BY J. H. JACKSON

The first requisite in selling Percherons is to produce them. In producing them, in order to attain the highest degree of efficiency, great care must be exercised in selecting the foundation stock, and especially the sire. It is truly said that the head of the herd is one-half the herd, and this statement is just as true with Percheron horses as with any other breed of livestock. There are well defined rules outlined for the selection of sires and dams which I will not take time and space to outline here, but which would be cheerfully furnished the beginner by the Livestock Registry Board at Stillwater. Recognizing the characteristics of a good sire or dam sometimes requires an experienced eye, and even experienced breeders are sometimes sadly disappointed in the results of their most hopeful matings.

There is an old saying, "A thing well bought is half sold". This is also true with regard to production, for if you produce a good animal you always have buyers for him without much effort on your part, while to sell an inferior Percheron requires good salesmanship.

To sell an animal you must first find the buyer, and what is the most effectual and economical way of bringing buyer and seller together is a question which has puzzled many of us. My opinion is, to exhibit your stock at the district, county and state fairs, together with a card setting forth the kind and quality of the stock you have for sale, carried in some farm journal which has a good circulation in the territory where your buyers are most likely to come from, are the most effectual agents. There are other means of advertising, such as handbills, posters and business cards, which are inexpensive and often bring good results.

THE STALLION AND JACK DURING AND OUT OF THE BREEDING SEASON

BY W. L. BLIZZARD

Many stallions are at least partially ruined between seasons. This is due to improper feeding and care. Some men starve their stallions after the breeding season on the theory that they cannot afford to feed liberally when there is no income. This is certainly a mistake. It does not even result in a saving of feed, as it will cost more to put the horse back into the proper condition when the breeding season opens. It is cheaper to keep a horse in good flesh all the time than to allow him to run down during a part of the year and then by heavy feeding for a few months bring him back to the required condition.

Many stallions as the breeding season approaches are fed too high and exercised too little, and as a result they are fat and soft. Some are not put on feed until the season begins, then they are crowded under the impression that a horse gaining flesh is improving in breeding qualities, but this is not so. To keep the horse in good breeding condition all the time is what the man feeding the stallion should strive to do.

Crushed oats and bran, with good hay, is hard to beat. Ground corn or kafir, together with plenty of bran and oil meal, also makes a splendid ration. Horses that are overfed on corn or kafir are never sure foal-getters. Bran is always a valuable supplement to any grain ration. It relaxes the system generally, corrects or prevents digestive disorders, and at the same time furnishes an abundance of bone and tissue-building material. Soft, warm bran mash once or twice a week will serve to keep the bowels in good condition, and a little epsom salts may be added. Roots should be provided in some form during the fall and winter seasons. They certainly help to keep the stallion in good condition and to keep his digestive tract in a good, healthy condition. In the springtime a few pounds of grass or other green feed may take their place. Some people regard green feed not good for the breeding stallion, but if it is given before the breeding season opens, so that the horse is accustomed to it, it will prove more beneficial than detrimental.

The stallion can be brought into the desirable physical condition only by good care and feed throughout the entire year. Conditioning a stallion is not laying on flesh, but it is getting him in good health, improving his muscles and putting plenty of vigor and vitality into him.

The amount of grain that should be fed horses will vary so much in their requirements that it is difficult to name any definite quantity which a horse should have as a daily ration. It should be regulated by the man feeding the horse, and should be governed by the capacity and needs of the horse. A stallion should not be given more than he will clean up within a half hour after feeding. Always leave him a little hungry. Do not over-feed on hay, as it is not necessary to crowd the horse full of hay all the time. Do not stuff his manger full of hay once or twice a day and allow him to eat till he cleans it up. That is a poor way to feed hay. Chopped hay, mixed with the grain, increases the efficiency of the ration. The horse should be supplied with plenty of good, fresh, clean water. During the hot weather the horse should be watered quite frequently. Overfeeding and little or no exercise tends to cause swollen legs, scratches, grease, and a wet stall causes thrush and canker.

Watch the horse's sheath, for if it becomes foul it may cause considerable trouble. This can easily be prevented by washing the sheath out with bran which has been mixed with water, about the same as you mix a bran mash; also add a little potassium permanganate. By cleansing out the sheath occasionally with this preparation it is much easier to ward off disease.

When you have done your part, so far as feeding is concerned, remember that the horse needs exercise. If you have a paddock in which he can run, so much the better. If there is no other way to furnish exercise, the horse should be walked. He must have exercise if you expect results from him. A horse that is confined is not a very sure foal-getter. The very best exercise for a stallion is to work him daily at some light work. If every stallion received a moderate amount of exercise, the number of foals would increase from 10% to 20%. Keep him in a well-lighted stable, and do not have him alone away from the other horses.

Another thing some people forget is grooming. Frequent and thorough grooming is very essential to keep the stallion comfortable and the skin in good, healthy condition.

The above information applies to the jack as well as to the stallion.
